In-Home Services

There are a variety of services and programs that can be brought into the home to assist in keeping people safe and helping them to be more independent. Listed below are some of the more common services used. Other service and program information can be obtained from the ADRC.

Emergency Medical Alert System Providers:

When emergency help is needed, the user can press the transmitter's "help" button, sending a radio signal to the console (connected to the user's telephone). This causes the console to automatically dial one or more pre-selected emergency telephone numbers. The transmitter can be worn around the wrist, neck, or attached to a belt loop. Some systems have the ability to sense when a person has fallen, and automatically calls for emergency help. There is a set-up fee and monthly charge. In addition to the list below, some retail businesses sell similar response systems as well.
