Syringe Services: The AIDS Resource Center of Wisconsin (ARCW) is operating Lifepoint in Grant County about one to two times a month upon request of clients. However, they cannot always provide timely services. The Board discussed Scott County Indiana (pop 23,870) and the 181 new cases of HIV identified in 2014-2015 due to injectable drug use with 92% co-infected with Hepatitis C infection

– They implemented a needle exchange to help combat the epidemic and had success. Grant County (pop 51,544) currently has 17 total known cases of HIV presumed to be living in Grant County. There have been 21 reports of Hepatitis C so far in 2019 which is more than double what we have seen in an entire year in previous years.

Syringe service programs have some demonstrated benefits such as reduced spread of disease, reduced improper disposal of needles and accidental needle sticks, education and referral opportunities, and enhanced access to care. Clients are 5 times more likely to seek treatment and 3 times more likely to quit using drugs. They provide opportunities to immunize and test for HIV and other diseases as well.

If moving forward to a permanent site it would likely dispense needles but not Narcan. Narcan would be on site for accidental overdose. The program would be monitored and updates would be provided to the Board. Porter Wagner made a motion to move forward with syringe services contingent on Medical Advisor approval and the ability to establish and MOU with ARCW and work out the necessary logistics, second by Dwight Nelson. Discussion regarding Policies and Procedures occurred. They will be developed similar to Public Health Madison Dane County which Ben Wood, Corporation Counsel has already looked at. Motion Carried.
